

Studio Contract

This contract/agreement is binding between MARIE SOKOLOVA, hereinafter as TEACHER, and _____, hereinafter as STUDENT. This contract stipulates payment details, behavioral details, and cancellations for lessons, hereinafter referred to as Lessons.

I. Lessons can be scheduled weekly, monthly, etc. The STUDENT pays the requisite amount for the agreed lesson type and frequency. Lesson rates are dictated as follows:

The SINGLE lesson rate is stipulated at $ _____ for _____ minutes.

*NOTE: Payment for lessons will occur BEFORE the lesson starts. Payment methods include cash, Zelle, or Venmo.

II. Lessons will be of varying lengths depending on the needs of the student or teacher. Lessons can be THIRTY, FORTY-FIVE, or SIXTY minutes. Every lesson will start promptly at the designated time and end at the designated time.

III. Lessons between TEACHER and STUDENT will be mutually scheduled at an agreed upon time for both parties. Confirmation will be made in writing over text message or email by the TEACHER.

In the event of lateness, the STUDENT will send a message as soon as possible, and the missed time will be considered forfeit. After FIFTEEN MINUTES the lesson will be cancelled and will require full payment.

IV. Lesson cancellations will be communicated at least TWENTY-FOUR HOURS before the scheduled lesson by either STUDENT or TEACHER. Any cancellation by the STUDENT within TWENTY-FOUR HOURS will require payment for the canceled lesson. No other lessons will be given before payment is made for the canceled lesson. Any emergency cancellation within TWENTY-FOUR HOURS of the lesson time will be made up accordingly.

An emergency is defined as a situation where utmost priority is paid to said situation. Examples are broken bones, car accidents, contagious sickness, vomiting, etc. The following are not considered emergencies: double booking, a test, traffic, or negligence. The TEACHER reserves the right to define emergency.

V. Should the STUDENT require a pianist, the TEACHER will either contract one for the Lesson for an additional fee or make recommendations for acquiring one and the necessary costs associated.

VI. Lessons will be conducted in a professional manner and require similar considerations from both parties. Inherent to effective technical teaching, the TEACHER may have to appropriately place hands on the STUDENT. Permission will always be asked prior, and if the STUDENT is not comfortable they reserve the right to refuse and there will be no repercussions.
